“It is important for us to explore other avenues for partnership,” said Prof. Mbithi. “Our partnership should address strategic issues in the country and continent at large.”

“As a media house, we are proud to be associated with the University of Nairobi,” said Mr. Gitagama. “We must ensure that this partnership not only benefits the two of us but also the country.”

The discussions revolved around the Nation Leadership Forums, strategic editorial coverage and the upcoming UoN career day.
